MAIN ACHIEVEMENTS IN THE ABOVE ROLES

- Within the 5 months of holding the role of Acting Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic and International), I led a task force to strategically formulate a re-alignment of the portfolio to form (a) a 'one-stop center' to create a seamless and efficient 'admission to graduation' experience for undergraduate and postgraduate students; (b) an academic strategic plan center that will oversee the curriculum development of programmes offered and monitor the effectiveness of these programmes through academic and learning analytics; and to transform (c) a new faculty that focuses on multidisciplinary tracks of postgraduate programmes. These three entities consist of a total staff strength of approximately 300 people.
- As the first Associate Vice-Chancellor (International) of the university (5 October 2015 - Current), I planned and strategized to align the university's

- international efforts.
- Under my portfolio, the Marketing and Recruitment Center (MRC) developed a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system in-house which was invaluable in our marketing and recruitment activities
 - A new website for the purpose of marketing and promotions which appealed to the younger generation was developed. This website is also linked to the CRM system. This is an international application website which won the Gold Creative Award for Best International Website at the 12th QS-APPLE Conference 2016.
 - Developed and consolidated digital marketing as one of the main tools for promotions of academic programmes. Won the Gold Award for the Most Creative Corporate Institution Video at the 13th QS-APPLE Conference in November 2017. This is the third year that UM marketing material has won at QS-APPLE Conference - Bronze in 2015 for undergraduate brochures and Gold in 2016 for the website.
 - Streamlined global network / association memberships for more effective engagements. Ensured that UM participates in all global network activities for the benefit of staff and students as well as high global visibility.
 - Maintained a high number of student mobility activities for inbound and outbound movement.
 - Initiated and consolidated strategic partnerships with international universities for effective engagement and mutually beneficial activities.
 - Initiated steps towards franchising academic programmes with international partners.
- As Deputy Dean, Institute of Graduate Studies (IGS) (22 March 2012 – 21 December 2014), branding materials were produced and developed in the form of ‘Starter Packs’ for new incoming postgraduate candidates, media write-ups which were aligned to the university identity and objectives were published, and working with an architect colleague and the development office, designed and built an outdoor learning space for postgraduate students.
 - Designed and developed the signature “Thesis Bootcamp” – a three day, fully supported, focused writing session for graduate students on the verge of submitting their theses. This is an annual event and is still conducted until today.
 - Initiated and systematically organized the UM 3-Minute Thesis (UM3MT) competition, which starts off at the faculty level and winners compete at the central university level. The University winner competes at the international level in Australia.
 - Developed and organized as an annual event, a supervision workshop for new supervisors.
 - Consolidated partnerships for the Dual PhD programme. The number of Dual PhD partnerships increased exponentially from only 3 to 13 during my term in IGS. They are with Loughborough University, UK, University of Liverpool, UK; University of Nottingham, UK; National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan; University of Taipei Taiwan; UNSW, Australia; ANU, Australia; KU Leeuven, Belgium; and NAIST, Japan. In addition, 2 Double Masters programmes, in Public Health and Renewable Energy, were signed with Kyoto University, Japan.
 - Worked in a team to develop the guidelines for students to Graduate on Time (GOT).
- As Director/ Deputy Director, International and Corporate Relations(ICR) (1 December 2006 – 31 August 2010), we established the first Confucius

- Institute in Malaysia (named Kongzi Institute for the Teaching of Chinese Language) in collaboration with the Ministry of Education, China
- Produced quality university publications for marketing, promotions, and branding purposes
 - Developed the University Media Policy and Standard Operating Procedures for media crisis management.
 - Maintained top media coverage (in terms of PR value) for University of Malaya and managed positive brand perception of the university through the media
 - Initiated and successfully coordinated the first two Dual PhD Programmes with University of Sydney (2 candidates in Rehabilitative Medicine and Sports Science) and Liverpool John Moores University (3 candidates in Electrical Engineering). Candidates have since graduated on time and established their careers in different institutions.
 - Led high profile events for the conferment of Honorary Doctorates for H.E. Jusof Kala, Vice-President, Indonesia (2007); HRH Queen Rania of Jordan (2008); H.E. Kim Dae Jung, Former President of Republic of Korea (2008).
- As the first Chief Quality Auditor of University of Malaya /Facilitator, Quality Assurance Management Unit – QAMU (2001-2004), in a team we led University of Malaya in achieving a comprehensive MS ISO 9001:2000 certification by SIRIM International QAS Sdn. Bhd. in 2002 for the management of Teaching and Learning processes, Research activities and related Support Services.
 - Built and established a system for the internal auditing process which covered 25 academic and non-academic centers throughout the university. I led a team of 120 internal auditors, who were from all departments across campus, to conduct comprehensive internal quality audits for the whole university every six months in preparation for third party compliance and surveillance audits.
 - Created a prototype for the writing of the Quality Assurance Procedures for the University's core processes.
 - Developed training programmes for various levels of staff in Quality Management System i.e. internal auditors for the university to conduct internal quality audit; SOP for various Management processes -- Management of Teaching and Learning, Management of Consultation, Management of Research, Management of Commercialization, Management of Museum and Gallery, Sports Management, Management of Infrastructure and Property.
- As Deputy Dean of the Faculty of Languages and Linguistics (1 Oct 2000 -30 Sept. 2002), I headed a committee in reviewing and restructuring all higher degree programs. We established a brand new mode of study in the masters programs, i.e. a full coursework program in addition to the existing coursework and dissertation program. We achieved this within four months and managed to implement and offer the new mode in the following academic session i.e. Sem 1, 2000/2001. This mode of programme was important to many potential candidates, many of whom were teachers, who needed to upskill their current capabilities and expertise.
 - Headed a team to update and revise Guidelines in Dissertation/Thesis Writing for Postgraduate Students.

COURSES DEVELOPED AND TAUGHT

- At the Master level in UM: Designed and taught courses in Critical discourse analysis; Discourse Analysis; Sociolinguistics – both in English and Malay
- At the Bachelor level in UM: Designed and taught courses in Language Varieties, Discourse Analysis, Sociolinguistics, English language skills, English language proficiency
- College for Preparatory Studies, Institute Technology of MARA, 1986-1988: Taught Academic English to prepare government scholars for undergraduate studies abroad.
- Taman Tun Dr. Ismail Secondary School, Kuala Lumpur, 1986-1987: Taught Communication English to secondary school students

SUPERVISION & EXAMINATION

- Successfully supervised to completion more than 40 doctoral and master candidates in the fields of critical discourse analysis, sociolinguistics, and communication.
- Examined more than 40 doctoral and master dissertations as internal and external examiner.
- Served on many advisory and evaluation committees for proposal and candidature defense for doctoral and master candidates.
